SUMMARY

I am a dedicated problem solver that always seeks to optimize the work I am performing. I think in terms of logic and results. I am enthusiastic, and I work with decisiveness. I thrive in a team environment, which I've gotten from years of playing team sports, such as hockey, football also through my academics. I wish to work on projects which provide value for people in their everyday life. I am focused on problem solving and with the help of data structures and algorithms, I will provide high class functionality for programs big and small. My preferred programming language is Java but I am familiar with several, as listed below.
